Namibia, a country in southwest Africa, is distinguished by the Namib desert along the Atlantic Ocean coast. The country is home to diverse wildlife, including a significant cheetah population. The capital, Windhoek, and coastal town Swakopmund contain German colonial-era buildings such as Windhoek's Christuskirche, built in 1907. In the north, Etosha National Park's sprawling salt pan draws game including rhinos and giraffes.

Day 5: Damaraland - Etosha National Park

The rock art here is one of the largest collections of its kind on the African continent. After you have inspected the area we depart for the world famous Etosha National Park. The Park covers an area of 22 270 square kilometres of saline desert, savannah and woodland. Etosha is one of the largest game reserves in Africa. The main feature of the park is the salt pan, which is a vast shallow depression of white saline sand that shimmers with mirages during the heat of most days. To observe the large herds of game against this eerie background makes the Etosha game-viewing experience unique.

Day 6: Etosha Park

Today you participate on the morning and afternoon guided game drives into the Etosha National Park. Quite a few of the animals found in the park are rare and endangered, such as the black rhino and the black-faced impala. Approximately 340 bird species occur in the Etosha National Park, of which only one third is migratory. Etosha is one of the most important breeding grounds of the greater and lesser flamingo in the Southern African region. This park is a bird-watchers and photographer's paradise!

Day 7: Etosha Park - Windhoek

After a leisurely breakfast it is time to say good bye to this adventurous area. A two and a half hour flight takes us back to Windhoek. This is your last chance to view the magnificent spaces of Namibia.
